

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS COMMITTEE

NANOS is a global society

The International Relations Committee (IRC) is a formal liaison between NANOS and its international members

Current activities

- Helping members from across the globe connect with NANOS
- Creating a web page within NANOS for international members
- Drafting and translating NANOS patient information sheets
- Coordinating optional symposium at the NANOS annual meeting highlighting our international members' expertise
- Supporting and advising on NANOS badged symposia at international conferences

Current IRC members

It has been a difficult two years for all our members. However, the international borders are opening, travel is resuming and it is time to look forward to new adventures. Therefore, we focus our poster on different international conferences and teaching efforts planned for 2022. We hope you can come and visit our hometowns in person.
