NANOS Higher Logic Community Moderation Guide

Flagging & Self Moderation

See Something Off? Flag It—Inappropriate or Rule-Breaking Posts Don't Belong Here

As a valued NANOS community member, you play an important role in maintaining a respectful and professional environment. Higher Logic's self-moderation tools make it easy to help.
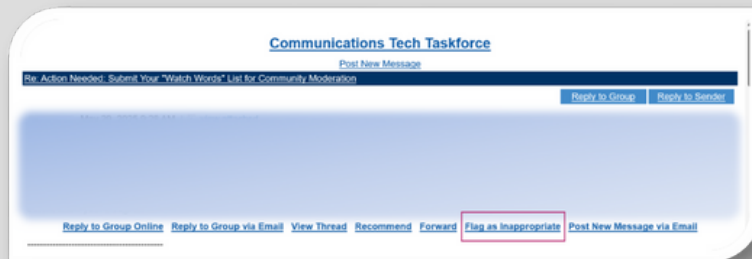

What to Flag
- Patient-Identifying Information: Maintain confidentiality (HIPAA compliance).
- Antitrust Compliance: Avoid discussing fees, prices, or market allocations.
- Commercial Messages: Without prior approval.
- Copyrighted Material: Without permission.
- Defamatory Content: Abusive or offensive.

For more details, review the complete NANOS Online Communication Platforms Rules and Terms.

Step-by-step guide on how to flag content:

Flag Inappropriate Content
- If you see a post that seems inappropriate, click "Mark as Inappropriate" on the community page or directly from the email notification.

Provide a Reason
- You'll be prompted to briefly explain why the content is being flagged. This helps ensure transparency and thoughtful moderation.

What Happens Next
- The content is temporarily removed and sent to the Community Moderator, who will:
  - Approve the moderation request to keep it hidden, or
  - Reject it, restoring the content to the thread.
